

Kenilworth Stables

The Riding School at Kenilworth Stables offers lessons for members of all ages and levels in a monthly membership model. Our focus on proper horsemanship holds members to a high standard for the proper care and understanding of our equine athletes; riders learn to tack up, untack, and care for them independently, developing a sense of ownership and friendship with our amazing team of horses. As members advance, their education continues with ground (unmounted) lessons in various horsemanship topics as the occasional alternative to rides. Note please that availability for popular times is very limited, with some availability mornings and midday.

Please contact us promptly to schedule your first lesson or join the running waitlist.

For new members and beginners...

- Four | private introductory lessons | 75 min

Required minimum of four lessons a month, it is highly recommended to take eight lessons a month

The introductory package is designed to prepare riders for regular membership in the Riding School; it is repeated until riders can tack up and untack their horse independently with proficiency in our horsemanship standards. Much of the lesson time is spent working on the pre-ride and post-ride process, thus limiting riding time until students become more independent working with the horse. Note: younger children who need assistance working with the horses will stay at the introductory package level until older and capable of doing so safely on their own.

For riders who can tack up independently but still need private instruction...

- Eight private lessons | 45 min

Students continue Introductory Membership until they are able to safely ride with others in group setting classes. Riders work on their strength and balance in two-point, begin some no-stirrups work, develop independent hands, steering on the rail, and arena safety and etiquette.

- Twelve private lessons | 45 min | Starting at $1,500

Students can continue their riding in a one-on-one private setting advancing their riding, not in a group setting.
